

Two Outreach Methods to Get Your 1st Paid Client

Method 1: The Hinge Referral

This is the highest-probability play. Go back to Client #1 and ask for an introduction.

The Script

"Hey [Client 1 Name], hope the team is getting stuck into the tools I identified. I'm looking to do 2 more of these audits this month to build out my initial portfolio. Is there one person you know, maybe another business owner, who'd be interested? If you intro us, I'll give them my 'Beta Price' ($250) instead of the full rate ($1,000)."

Method 2: Proof-Based Warm Outreach

If the referral doesn't land immediately, go back to your Warm Outreach List. Your message is different now. You have results so lead with them.

The Script (For people you've already contacted but didn't close)

Follow-up Script

"Hey [Name], quick update on my end. I just wrapped up an AI Audit for [Client 1] and we identified 3 specific tools that are going to save them roughly $1,500/month in admin costs.

I'm looking to do 2 more of these audits this month. My normal rate for these is $1,000, but I'm doing a few at $250 for friends and family.

Would you be interested in having a chat about a similar audit for your business?"

The Script (For people you haven't contacted yet)

New Outreach Script

"Hey [Name], hope you're doing well! I've been using a ton of AI tools over the past year and I've decided to pivot into doing some AI Consulting to help businesses identify which tools their teams should actually be using to save time.

I just wrapped up an AI Audit for [Client 1] and we identified 3 specific tools that are going to save them roughly $1,500/month in admin costs.

I'm looking to do 2 more of these audits this month. Usually, they run $1,000, but I'm doing a limited batch for $250 to gather more data.

Do you know anyone who might be interested? Let me know if anyone comes to mind!"